

Five College Center for the Study of World Languages

Conversation Preparation Guides

Title: Introducing People to Each Other

Topic: Greetings and Introductions

Level: Novice

Practice on Your Own

- Each person needs to have an alternate identity. You will need a new name, age, place of origin, occupation, family members, etc.
 - Depending on how many people are in the conversation section, each person may need to play multiple roles.
- Practice introducing yourself out loud.

Practice in Conversation Session

- Warm-up introductions. Have each person introduce herself/himself to the group.
- Go around the table and have each person introduce two people to each other. Practice using "this is," "he is," "she is."
 - For more practice, make up more new identities.