English translation:

As for a charcoal stove, if you want it to work better or faster, you can add more charcoal, like this. You fill the stove with charcoal so it can cook the food better. Like this, this means that it's ready. After two or three minutes, it will be completely ready. As for using firewood stoves, first you have to lay the grass on the floor. After arranging the grass, you arrange your firewood. After arranging the firewood, you set it on fire using kerosene oil. Eeh! As for mafiga (the three stones or rocks that are part of the firewood stove) as you see, mafiga means there are three sides. On this side, you put firewood, on this side, you put firewood, and there you put firewood. These indicate that the pot will be put over here.
