Alimu: Nyumbani kazi tulizokuwa nazo, tulikuwa tunaamshwa na wazazi. Tukisha amka asubuhi, tunaambiwa twendeni shamba, tunaenda shamba. Tukisha fika shamba kule, kazi tulizokuwa nazo kule, labda kilimo tukisha anza kilimo tunalimaaa...weee.. tukisha maliza ... aghaa...Ikishafikai muda wa kupumzika tunarudi nyumbani, tuanandaa chakula.Tukisha andaa chakula, tunakula chakula, tunapumzika tunasubiria siku nyingine. Labda wanaweza wakatupangilia siku fulani tena inabidi turudi shamba kama kawaida. Ndo kazi tulizo kuwa nanzo nyumbani.

English translation:

The kind of jobs we had at home...our parents would get us up. When we woke up in the morning, they'd tell us to go to the farm, and we went to the farm. When we got to the farm, the chores we were given over there might be hoeing. We'd dig for a long time and when we finished, aghaaa....When it was time to take a break, we'd come back home, then we'd prepare food. When the food was ready, we'd eat, then rest and wait for the next day. On the next day, maybe they would tell us we had to go to the farm, as usual. Those were the types of jobs we had in the country.

About CultureTalk: CultureTalk is produced by the Five College Center for the Study of World Languages and housed on the LangMedia Website. The project provides students of language and culture with samples of people talking about their lives in the languages they use everyday. The participants in CultureTalk interviews and discussions are of many different ages and walks of life. They are free to express themselves as they wish. The ideas and opinions presented here are those of the participants. Inclusion in CultureTalk does not represent endorsement of these ideas or opinions by the Five College Center for the Study of World Languages, Five Colleges, Incorporated, or any of its member institutions: Amherst College, Hampshire College, Mount Holyoke College, Smith College and the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.
