

Explanation:

This dress has colors that are different from the other woman's dress because in different tribes they use different styles and colors for the dress. This specific dress has been made for the Teke tribe. The woman also has a head scarf on her head, and a big head scarf around her shoulders. The headscarves are usually in flower patterns. The dress decoration on the chest is in a different shape and style, too, which also represents a different tribe.

About CultureTalk: CultureTalk is produced by the Five College Center for the Study of World Languages and housed on the LangMedia Website. The project provides students of language and culture with samples of people talking about their lives in the languages they use everyday. The participants in CultureTalk interviews and discussions are of many different ages and walks of life. They are free to express themselves as they wish. The ideas and opinions presented here are those of the participants. Inclusion in CultureTalk does not represent endorsement of these ideas or opinions by the Five College Center for the Study of World Languages, Five Colleges, Incorporated, or any of its member institutions: Amherst College, Hampshire College, Mount Holyoke College, Smith College and the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.
