English translation:

My mom and my dad are both alive. They have both retired from the post office. I have two elder brothers and an elder sister. I am the youngest in the house. My elder brother is married and has two kids, which means I am a paternal aunt. In fact, I became an aunt when I was quite young. My older brother is thirty-four years old; he lives in Mersin. My sister is thirty-one years old and lives in Marmaris. She is not married; she lives in her own style, and she is not considering getting married. My other brother is two years older than I; he is twenty-two years old, and he is currently doing his military service. He graduated from the computer department at Kocaeli University. He is doing his military service in Elazığ. After he is done with military service, he is probably thinking of getting a job in his own field.
